LearnZillion was honored as one of 160 finalists across the 34 education technology categories.

"I am impressed by the level of innovation and creativity demonstrated by the 2017 CODiE award finalists. These products are opening doors for learners of all ages by combining new technologies with research about how people learn in order to respond to student and educator needs." said Bridget Foster, Senior Vice President and Managing Director of the Education Technology Industry Network (ETIN), a division of SIIA.

"It's an honor to be selected as a finalist. Education technology supports classroom instruction and that's why we're providing Curriculum-as-a-Service. We want to empower districts to take ownership of their curricula and provide teachers with the best tools for classroom engagement." said Eric Westendorf, CEO and Co-Founder of LearnZillion.

The SIIA CODiE Awards are the industry's only peer-reviewed awards program. Educators and administrators serve as judges and conduct the first-round review of all education nominees. Their scores determine the SIIA CODiE Award finalists, and SIIA members then vote on the finalist products. The scores from both rounds are tabulated to select the winners. Winners will be announced during a CODiE Award Winner Ceremony in San Francisco on July 26 at the Education Impact Symposium, hosted by the Education Technology Industry Network (ETIN), a division of SIIA.
